Kyneton Community Park: a space for everyone

Kyneton residents are invited to explore the final designs of the Kyneton Community Park, and get involved in aspects of the park’s development throughout 2015.

The Kyneton Community Park will be a unique nature-based environment at the historic Kyneton Botanic Gardens for people of all ages and abilities to picnic, celebrate, exercise and play.

It will be place for all Kyneton residents—from babies to grandparents and everyone in between—and will be a celebration of the local history and community of Kyneton.

The foundation works will start in April this year, and will include new pathways for visitors. Stage 2 construction of park equipment will get underway later this year, funding permitting.

Find out more about this interactive park’s unique design by attending a community event at the Kyneton Botanic Gardens on Saturday 21 March from 1pm.

Macedon Ranges Shire Council staff will be available at the event to answer your questions about the park’s design, construction and ongoing management.

At the event you can also find out how you can get involved in aspects of the park’s development and any ongoing community activities to maintain the park into the future.

This will one day be your park, so come and find out how you can be a part of it. You can also drop into the Kyneton Council office to view the detailed designs, or contact Troy Eley, Community Places & Partnerships Coordinator, on 5422 0247 or via teley@mrs.c.vic.gov.au

This park will help to renew the Kyneton Botanic Gardens’ natural open spaces, rejuvenate the soil, trees and plants, and breathe new life into the old caravan park site.

The vision for this project has been seven years in the making, developed by local community group, Kyneton Community Park Inc., with input from the broader community.

Council is proud to be able to help the community make this vision a reality by managing the project, and contributing towards construction costs along with significant funding support from the Victorian Government.
