NATIONAL DATA COLLECTION

Attached to the communication this week is an information sheet Regarding the collection of data on school students with a disability.

The Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability (the national data collection) is an annual collection that counts the number of school students with disability and the level of reasonable educational adjustment they are provided with.

The national data collection will count students who have been identified as receiving an adjustment to address a disability under the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (the DDA). The DDA can be accessed from the ComLaw website at www.comlaw.gov.au.

The aim of the national data collection is to collect better information about school students with disability in Australia.
